

Engineering methods leader

Company

Our factory is the Thai subsidiary of a company specialized in luxury items: jewelry, accessories and leather. The Group is currently making a turnover of 50 M euros. There are 2 manufacturing entities in France and one factory in Thailand.

Today our headcount is around 270 employees in Thailand. We are currently working on the development of a new production model in order to be in line with the new expectations on the jewelry market. The core know-hows of the factory are the lost wax casting and wax setting. We are also running a plating line. Then we are skilled in filing, soldering, polishing... We can also provide an expertise in manual setting, Resin and assembly process

Responsibilities

You will be under the development manager and you will have to drive a team of 2 people. (team under construction).

We expect our Engineering Methods leader to be in charge of the following tasks.

The below list is not exhaustive.

- Definition of the production process following to a product development cycle (Design, prototype, pre-serie production, mass production...etc);
 - Ensure the technical and economic feasibility of each customer's project in term of:
 - Minimum order quantity,
 - Manufacturing process in line with the target price from customer,
 - Industrial solution in line with the quality criteria from clients,
 - Product development in line with the technical know-how of the company.
 - Implement and update correct Time Measurement system;
 - Implement different experience plans in order to make our casting process more in control and optimize it;
- Review and optimize our core existing process in accordance with the customers requirements.

Profile

Our ideal applicant might gather some of the following characteristics:

- Engineer with a strong background in industrialization process. An experience in food or automotive industry could be a plus;
- Experienced: between 5 and 10 years;
- Leadership and teamwork orientated in a context of "re-creation" of Methods department inside our organization;
- Experienced in dealing with designers within an international context;
- Open minded and up to share your working patterns with others;
- Fluent in Thai, English. French can be a BIG plus.

If you don't speak Thai, your application will be deny.

Conditions

- The mission takes place at our factory in Lamphun. (Province of Chiang Mai)
- Thailand local contract

- Salary based on profile.

Franco-Thai
Chamber of Commerce
หอการค้าฝรั่งเศส-ไทย

Interested candidates, please send application to employment@francothaicc.com,
Only shortlisted candidates will be notified.